

THE BLITZ BUS

by Glen Blackwell

Synopsis

Emmie let out a huge sob – “It’s not a film set”, she cried. She held onto Jack for a moment, then took a step back, closed her eyes and shouted - “WHERE AM I?”

When Jack and Emmie suddenly find themselves transported back to London in 1940, they find a world both familiar, yet very different. As they dodge falling bombs and over-zealous policemen, they befriend Jan - a lonely Polish refugee. Together, they must work out if the shadowy figure they keep seeing is a spy and unlock the secret of getting home again...

Book Details

Written for the 8-12 age group, with Upper Key Stage 2 readers in mind, The Blitz Bus seeks to bring the Second World War to life. Intended to be read both for pleasure and to support primary learning, the story compels our modern characters to examine the similarities and differences between their normal lives and a historical setting.

About the Author

Glen Blackwell lives in Suffolk, England. He has a career in finance and The Blitz Bus is his second book. Inspired by bedtime reading with his 3 daughters, Glen loves to bring stories to life for young readers.
